

It's In The Bag

The main idea is to put little items in a bag that each represent a topic for marketing (or reason for doing Mary Kay). Pass the bag around, having each guest take out an item, until all the items are gone. (In a small class each guest may have 2 or 3 items.) Then go around the table and have each guest try to guess what her item represents in Mary Kay. Each correct guess wins a ticket(s). If she cannot guess it, another guest may have the opportunity to guess it.

Below are topics (reasons) and examples of items that can be used.

car

Small toy cars, laminated cutouts of the Grand Am from the company postcard, a set of keys

money

A copy of your recent paycheck or your Director's recent paycheck, a small piggy bank, a (fake) $100

Flexibility

Small plastic watch, a picture of your family with a rubber band around it, an hourglass

Tax Benefits

A copy of a 1040 form
(you can print these from the internet)
 For added cuteness, you can fold the form in half, punch two holes in it and tie a ribbon on it.

Self-Esteem & Personal Growth

A box of heart candy, a small mirror, children's vitamins

Prizes & Recognition

Laminated pictures from the Star brochure, ribbons, MK Logo Pin, a ring box, MK Gold Medal

Training

Training tape, notebook, Career Essentials tape, coach whistle

Discount

A flattened box of product, a small gift bag, a product sample, beauty book